

Advanced Squad Leader - Avalon Hill AFV Cards Listings

Version 1, March 2008 Scott Krutsch, skrutsch@mac.com

AFV Cards for German and Russian vehicles appeared in Streets of Fire, American in Hedgerow Hell and British directly from the late Avalon Hill. Being an eternal newbie, I find the AFV Cards useful but hard to organize.

Each of the four nationalities has its own page with these three listings:

- 1) A list of all AFV names of that nationality that have an AFV Card
- 2) A list of all AFV Card fronts and backs of that nationality, with their corresponding Chapter H note numbers
- 3) A list of all Chapter H note numbers that have an AFV Card

Here's how I use them. When I see a particular AFV in a scenario, listing 1) tells me if an AFV Card exists for it. Then listing 2) not only helps me to find the card itself, but shows me the AFV's note number so I can check Chapter H for details and errata.

All AFV names in these listings are taken from the vehicle counters, not the cards themselves. In most cases they are the same, but the German cards tend to have wordy labels, like "PzKpfw IB" instead of the counter's "Pz IB".

There are three symbols used in the listings:

* There are multiple vehicles with the given Chapter H note number. Some of the vehicles have a corresponding AFV Card while others don't.

On the other hand, if there isn't an asterisk by a note number, that means there's an AFV Card for every vehicle listed under that note number.

^ There are multiple vehicles with the given Chapter H note number, and there are at least two different AFV Cards corresponding to different vehicles listed under that note number.

~ For the given vehicle, there is a second AFV Card containing additional notes for the vehicle. (In every case, Avalon Hill made sure the first AFV Card indicates that there is an additional notes card and tells you on the back of which other card it can be found.)
